Into what larger narrative do these indicators of militarism fit?

The projection of U.S. military power worldwide is necessary to protect our vital national interests and to encourage the spread of freedom and democracy against the forces of terror, oppression and evil. It is our Christian duty to support our nation in this endeavor.

The projection of military power worldwide is a sign that we have become an imperialistic empire, intent on imposing our will on the world...a clear sign of overreach and a violation of our own nation's principles. It is our Christian duty to witness to Jesus' way of peace and stand with the victims of our nation's violence.

To what degree does the use of military power around the world protect us, and to what degree does it create a seedbed for recruiting more terrorists, and make us less secure?
